DEDICATION

THE true spirit of friendliness is fully exemplified by Dr. Paul McCorkle. For four years we have been warmed by his sympathetic and helpful service. Intense interest in science has not narrowed his view of other fields. His highly benevolent and understanding disposition has made him a confidant of many. Our family album, which is a product of mutual friendship and cooperation, holds in high esteem these qualities. Thus we dedicate our hearts as well as this book to our loyal friend and counselor, Dr. Paul McCorkle.

DR. PAUL McCORKLE

CHAPEL

FOREWORD

TREASURED family album. Who ever read it? Ever see an album in a penthouse, a club car, a luxury liner? No, the old-fashioned album was first browsed-through by staid Victorians—on their over-stuffed horsehair sofas. Plush-covered books of varied hues. Red, green, gold with many-petaled flowers and plump, be-ribboned cupids. It was the “March of Time” of the Victorian Era, cherished like the family Bible and the parlor pipe-organ. Babies in their christening dresses, youngsters in pinafores and first long trousers. Brown derbies, starched high collars, and patent-leather-tipped boots. Bustled skirts and veiled sailor hats—all these grace the stiff poses of the tintype models. For four years, we, like the “Beau Brummels” and the “Gibson Girls” of yesterday, have posed for our “life snapshots”.

Styles may change or be revived, poses may relax and be natural, but the same character traits are inherent in every generation. Though outward semblances are altered, we still cling to the traditional spirit of the “Gay Nineties”. Loyalty to West Chester, honesty to ourselves, respect for those who have proved themselves worthy are the qualities which we hold dear.

Therefore, we, the Senior Class of 1939, present our “Old-Fashioned Album” to West Chester.

IT was one hundred twenty-seven years ago that West Chester Academy first took root in the heart of historic Chester County. From these humble beginnings has emerged our college, of which we are so justly proud. Since those early days of its existence, the college has undergone a great metamorphosis. It has acquired a veneer of old world sophistication; a veneer, and that only, for under it lie the steadfast beliefs, the pruderies, the ignorances, the boundless energy of the young nation. Look kindly upon this plastic period, for this era of transcendentalism was one which achieved progress—the progress which resulted in the development of a great institution.

In Memoriam

DR. JOHN A. FARRELL

"Large was his bounty, and his soul sincere." —Thomas Gray.

They died before they had achieved their design and ambition, as all builders of their type die. Their work is never done; they always die planning for the future.

"So many worlds, so much to do,
So little done, such things to be,
How know I what had need of thee,
For thou wert strong as thou wert true?"

—Alfred Lord Tennyson.

STEREOSCOPIC VIEW

THE "darling" of the West Chester State Teachers College campus in September 1935 was the pink-cheeked, clear-eyed, tow-headed Freshman Class. Our childish enthusiasm knew no bounds even with advent of "dinks" and "bows". We were indeed problem children for our patient advisers, Miss Lois Clark and Dr. James Andes. As we grew, we had to have an interpreter for our infantile dialect, and so we chose Master Tommy Middleton as our president.

As we passed the baby stage, West Chester was no longer a novelty to us, for as Sophomores we more than ever personified the name of "wise fools". However, in spite of our schoolboy's pranks, our precocity had to be acknowledged, especially in the person of Gerry Brennan, our newly elected leader. During this eventful year the All-Star Course was begun and received with such applause that we have made it part of our education.

With the ambition of youth, the Junior Class took upon its growing shoulders new responsibilities, new duties, and new tasks. The Junior Prom materialized in the form of a French cafe, and we called it "Chez Les Apaches". We thought Sally Twaddell to be the epitome of beauty and charm and named her "Queen of the Junior Prom". As we were growing so was our Alma Mater, and ground was broken for our new Recitation Hall. The May Day activities were taken over by our class and executed with the finesse of a veteran. The success of that year under the leadership of Harold McSparran was a preview of what was to come.

With an air of expectancy, we came back to West Chester in our last year. No more the "baby dumpling", no more the prankish barefoot boy, no more the gangly youth but the well-polished man-about-town, the Beau Brummel, the dandy, we were the envy of all the underclassmen and the pride of the administration. Mr. Robert Haines, Esquire became our president. The "Family Album" began to take form with Mr. Ralph Miller in the editor's chair. This year we again witnessed the arrival of many notable personalities on our campus, guest artists of the All-Star Course. Proudly we heard Helen Martin sing the honored role in the Christmas Carol Service. Members were stricken with a strange jungle fever, which was climaxed with the "Congo Safari", an unusual and entertaining week-end. Full grown men of property, we had a philosophy of life that was devised and presented by that eminent philosophic gentleman, Mr. Fred Halla, in "You Can't Take It With You". With Recitation Hall completed, and the cornerstone laid, the end of our college year was drawing near. Class Day and finally that challenging Commencement brought our happy family history to a close.

MEN OF STRATAGEM
AND RESOLUTION

ADMINISTRATION

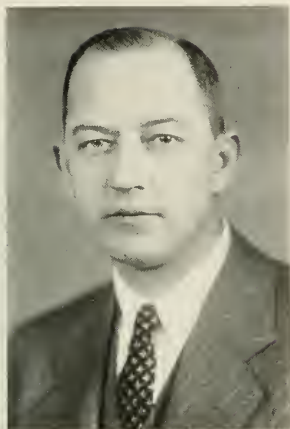

TO the casual observer who watches the numerical growth of the college and who yet sees no downward trend in the organization accompanying this growth, it would seem almost paradoxical that there is no lack of efficiency in the force that guides the destinies of West Chester, as it continues to function in its same smooth, unperturbed manner.

It is with a note of gratitude and deep appreciation that we look behind the scenes and attempt to make a crude analysis of that machine, which, by its incomparable efficiency and unremitting efforts, has truly played Good Samaritan to a great institution.

It would be unjust to attempt to classify the various organizations which go to make up our administrative body according to the work they do, or what they have thus far accomplished. All have worked together in an integrated, harmonious fashion with one common goal, the betterment and enhancement of West Chester.

For this great work we congratulate and hold in esteem those bodies that have contributed to the administrative needs of this college. To the Governor of our state, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Board of Trustees, the President of the College, the Dean of Instruction, the Personnel Staff, the Faculty, the Business Staff, the Maintenance Department, the Health Service, the Student Senate, other student governing bodies, and to any other organization that has in any way aided this college, we are indebted. The work "which they have thus far so nobly advanced" is indicative of a truly great organization.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Mr. Merrill B. Cann
President of the Board

IN every family life, there is the power that moulds the calibre of the family group by establishing standards, giving advice, and by administering the economic and social duties of the family.

In our grandmother's time, this power assumed a dictatorial aspect. Today, with our increased confidence in the judgment of the group, this "power" has come more and more to mean helping the group to find out what is best for it, and then, helping it to accomplish this goal.

We thank the Board of Trustees of West Chester for keeping pace with the times in this more enlightened idea of administration.

AS THE SCULPTOR TOILS WITH HIS CLAY, THE MASON WITH HIS STONE, SO HAS OUR PRESIDENT TOILED WITH THE MOST PRICELESS OF ALL MATERIAL—HUMAN BEINGS EN- DOWED WITH INFINITE SOULS. HE HAS GIVEN UNRESERVEDLY HIS TIME AND ENERGY TO THE OFFICE WHICH IT HAS BEEN HIS DISTINCT PLEASURE TO FILL. UNDER HIS WISE AND FARSEEING GUIDANCE, WEST CHESTER HAS BEEN LIFTED TO THE STATUS OF A GREAT COLLEGE.

CHARLES SEIGEL SWOPE, A.B., A.M.
President of the College

MR. WINFIELD W. MENHENNETT, B.S., A.M.
Dean of Instruction

WE who are about to complete our final year in West Chester realize more than ever that in Dean Menhennett we have always had a true friend and counselor. From the time we entered as freshmen until graduation, he has always been ready to advise, to help, and to offer his services for the betterment of each student.

The keynote of his office has always been efficiency, fairness, and equality among all students; no one is excepted—each must conform to those rules which he now realizes were for his own benefit. It is with regret that we take leave of the fatherly guidance that he has offered us, and we know that the farewell which he bids us is typical of that of the Anglo-Saxon mother as she sent her son forth to conquer, “May you be glorious with success”.

BUSINESS OFFICE

THIS college, like all other organizations, has found definite need for a group of people to establish and carry out its fiscal policies. Such a need has been provided for by the establishment of a competent business staff under the leadership of Mr. Ermon Postles.

Mr. Ermon M. Postles

We are indeed fortunate in having such an efficient leader for our "dispenser of mercenary affairs". It is his obligation to collect, when he can, paltry sums from fifteen hundred students—a problem truly to be quaked at, yet never flinched from.

In addition to numerous other pecuniary duties, the members of this staff have been designated to distribute student trolley tickets. It is a matter of little wonder that they often "wax pale" when those Saturday and holiday rushes to the metropolis begin.

PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT

Mr. Clarence L. McKelvie
Director of Personnel

THERE is probably no organization in the college which contributes more to the direct needs of the students than the Personnel Staff. The duties of this three-year-old organization are many and varied. Besides supervising all student employment on campus, it administers the student loans, sets up the college testing programs, supervises and administers the extra-curricular activities on campus, coordinates personnel functions, and cooperates generally with personnel officers in problems of student adjustment and personal development.

Because of its comparatively recent creation and development it might well be considered in its embryonic stage. Surely, the future holds much for this staff, and West Chester undergraduates will continue to benefit from the service rendered by this competent group and its able director, Mr. Clarence L. McKelvie.

It is little wonder that Mrs. King has earned the respect and confidence of all the women students under her jurisdiction. A diligent worker and sympathetic friend, she has created in Main Dormitory a friendly and homelike atmosphere.

Mrs. Clyde King
Dean of Women

Miss Eleanor E. Starkey
Associate Dean of Women

Supervision of all resident men students is no easy job, but Dean Killinger has proved that it can be done in an efficient and affable manner.

Since the advent of student government in Wayne Hall, Mr. Killinger's duties have been performed expertly in an administrative and advisory capacity.

Mr. W. Glenn Killinger
Dean of Men

Perhaps unheralded but not unappreciated, is the efficient work of Miss Townsend and Mrs. Keech. Working in cooperation with the Deans of Women, they are held in esteem by all with whom they come in contact.

Miss Townsend, Mrs. Keech

HEALTH SERVICE

Dr. Scattergood

SMELLING salts and fainting fits may have been acceptable in the period of our grandmothers, but today health is the keynote to success. Just as short, comfortable skirts have replaced the cumbersome draperies of yesterday, so has a glowing colorful cheek taken the place of a wanton pale one. Unfortunately, we are not all capable of maintaining this healthy state, but we are fortunate in the fact that we have a understanding and expert health service to which we may go for aid.

In the comfortable and inviting infirmary on Rosedale Avenue, Dr. Scattergood, together with Miss Glance and Miss Dries, is always ready for any illness or accident. They are not content with curative measures but also seek prevention of numerous ills. The administration of the Mantoux test of tuberculosis to freshmen and seniors and a physical examination of all students are two of the many projects carried on to keep us physically fit.

"A sound mind in a sound body" is what we strive for, and so, to the honored and respected position the family doctor occupies in an album, we place each member of the Health Service Department.

Infirmary

MAINTENANCE

ORDER and proper atmosphere were all part of an old-fashioned album. We in our life at West Chester must have a neat and attractive campus. Personalities develop and thrive under delightful settings. Even staid and prim Victorians would appreciate the well-kept grounds and cleanliness of the buildings. However, instead of many-pictured walls and multiple-cushioned furniture, simplicity is sought in the life of today. This natural orderliness is subtly achieved by the maintenance staff. Mr. Herbert Chambers is the head maintainer of all the efficiency. The comfort and cheerful surroundings of the Main Dormitory are chiefly due to the careful supervision of Miss Rebecca Dissinger.

Miss Mack, Miss Dissinger

Although we are not always conscious of the workings of this department, we nevertheless can understand the efforts put forth by its staff members.

STUDENT SENATE

IT is with hearty congratulations and well wishes that we present the Senate, an organization in its first year of existence at the college. Its purpose is to unify the several individual campus groups by establishing a central board on which all college interests are represented, and to be an advisory and policy-forming group so that individual campus groups and standing committees may have the benefit of representative opinions of the student body as a whole.

During its first active year it has inaugurated a new election system, in which the petition plan was adopted. It has also taken over the handling of Freshman Week and the functioning of student life committees. As a final gesture, an intensive study of library conditions was made in order that the student body at large might benefit. The coordination of all campus activities being its ultimate goal, it has served its purpose well thus far, and promises to attain even greater heights in administering student government in the college.

WOMEN'S STUDENT COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

THE Women's Student Cooperative Association is organized for the two-fold purpose of bringing all women of both dormitory and day student divisions into a single governmental unit, and of fostering the social development of the women on campus. Members and officers of the Advisory Board, together with members and officers of the council of each division, constitute the officiating body of the association.

The College customs and regulations are set up, published, and enforced by this body. The Big-Little Sister system with its many friendly and helpful activities is the most outstanding achievement in freshman orientation.

To maintain its other purpose of presenting a selected and desirable social program, the Women's Student Cooperative Association offered the Mid-Winter Formal and several informal dances throughout the year. The planning of and attendance at many formal and informal teas sponsored by this organization lend much to the social development of a finished "jeune fille".

MEN'S DAY STUDENT COUNCIL

A BETTER understanding and a feeling of friendship among our male students are brought about by this organization. Helping to make and enforce the rules of the administration and looking after the general welfare of those not living in Wayne Hall are vital functions of this governing body; and along with these functions, is the governmental and administrative experience gained by the men who participate. The Council was in charge of administering day student regulations for men, and in conjunction with the other councils, sponsored several tea dances and the Mid-Winter Formal, "The Assembly Ball". The other social functions were a banquet, a theatre party, and the trip to the New York Conference.

APPRECIATION

AS the older and wiser generation in our family, the faculty has nurtured our inquiring minds and has given us new ideas, changed conceptions, and a greatly matured philosophy. For this we tender our most humble thanks. Not always has the work been pleasant and agreeable, nor has it been easy; still, we have profited from the friendly associations we have experienced with this body, and from the pointed truths and intelligent guidance they have given us.

CLASS ADVISERS

Dean Menhennett, Miss Schaub

As we open the pages of our album, we are surprised to see the faces of our old friends and counselors, Miss Lois Clark and Dr. James Andes. After having been guided faithfully by them for three years, we watched them pass to other fields of endeavor, extending our regret for their leaving and best wishes for their happiness.

Our eyes travel on, and we find that our new advisers, Miss Anne Schaub and Dean Menhennett are not strangers but friends who have won our faith and admiration, a faith and admiration which increase as they guide us through our last and most difficult year.

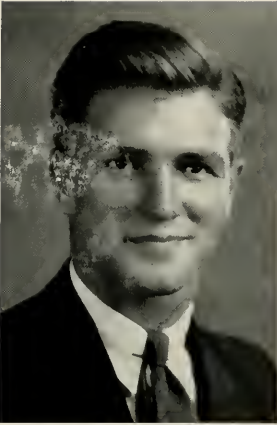

So, with gratitude and appreciation in our hearts, we turn the page.

JUNIOR CLASS

JACK Harris, president; Ray Saalbach, vice-president; Betty Ann Leaver, treasurer, and Marion Hanby, secretary—the heads of the family portrait—gave to the junior picture an impression of capability and distinction. The services of Thomas Brennan, leader of "Knight's Night", deserve the best commendation. Under his ingenious supervision, the Ehinger gymnasium was transformed into a medieval castle. There, "as in the days of old", attending "knights" and their ladies witnessed the traditional crowning of Marjorie Stoltzfus, the Queen of the Court.

May Day was another outstanding silhouette for the Junior class. Louise Shoemaker and other members of the class helped to make the celebration of the "Merrie Month" of May a success.

Dr. Sykes and Miss Connell cooperated to the fullest extent and gave the juniors their help and inspiration. We, the aspirants, look forward to a successful year when we take our places as finished portraits in 1940.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

NINETEEN thirty-eight and thirty-nine was a happy period for the second-yearmen. Out of the infant stage, they were free to breathe the air of the upper classes. Also they could give vent to the stored-up wrath from their first year. Gleefully, they supervised the freshmen with strict adherence to the law.

Robert Scott, as president, with the help of Thomas Triol, Betty Knisely, and Janet Sonneborn, commanded the admiration and respect of the other students at West Chester.

Mr. Waters and Miss Heinemann did much to gain desirable compliments for the maturing professionals.

The Sophomore Semi-Formal was one of the social "hits" of the season. Old-fashioned sophomore hospitality was combined with new-fashioned "swing". West Chester awaits with anticipation the advent of next year's juniors.

FRESHMAN CLASS

IN September, 1938, embryo collegians were introduced to West Chester. Surprisingly enough their first taste of college life was sweet. Subsequent events such as "freshman regulations", however, made it "bittersweet". Bereft of cigarettes, their best clothes, dates, etc., the freshmen stood the test. Freshman Stunt Night made the sophisticated upperclassmen realize that the "miniatures" were made of "sterner stuff".

The elections of Curwen Schlosser as president, John White as vice-president, Betty J. Landis as, secretary and Janet Sonneborn as treasurer proved that the freshman class had brains as well as beauty. Their pictures are clear and distinct, and their work well-done.

The joys, sorrows, and interests were shared and understood by Miss Starkey and Mr. Heim, the advisers of the class. We hope that the other three sittings of our college life will be as vital as our first.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES ASSOCIATION

THE purpose of the organization is to budget equitably and to recommend carefully the expenditures of all money accruing to its credit. The income is derived from Student Activities Association fees, admissions, gate receipts, guarantees, and other similar sources. The money is spent by all extra-curricular organizations, with the exception of a few, who requisition the association for their share. The Executive Board attempts, and succeeds admirably, to control the expenditures so that the greatest number of students will receive the most benefit. The board meets weekly in the Alumni Office of the Philips Memorial Building.

Since its inception in 1936, the Student Activities Association has grown steadily, and this year it transacted more than twice the volume of business done in its first year. Its most notable work during the year has been the financing of the All-Star Course and the Sunday Chapel Services, along with the establishment of a Student Activities Association Loan Fund of thirty-two hundred dollars.

GOVERNMENTAL CONFERENCE GROUP

THIS organization provides the means whereby students may learn the operations and functions of their government. For its general theme this year, the club has chosen "A Study of Pennsylvania's Legislative System".

The climaxing activity of the year was a model legislature, held at Harrisburg, in which members of the college student body participated with those from thirty-five other Pennsylvania colleges.

THIS organization unites in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. The membership is open to any woman member of the college. The various activities of the committees and the Thursday evening meetings of the group build toward the realization of this year's theme, "Christian Living".

THE Y. M. C. A. is one of the larger and more unifying forces on campus. The purpose of the organization is to keep alive the spirit of Christian endeavor among the students. Membership is open to all men students of the college. This year the club was responsible for reviving one of the main features of Freshman Week—the “Y” Camp. The Y. M. C. A. continued this year, as in the past, to present speakers of note at its regular weekly meetings. In collaboration with the Y. W. C. A. and with the help and direction of Dr. Cressman, it was instrumental in bringing about a very worthwhile innovation on campus—the Sunday Morning Chapel Service.

MARCHING BAND

NO other group of students on campus has done more toward stimulating a school spirit and enlivening members of the student body and other spectators at football games than his Marching Band, directed by Mr. Edward Zimmer. This instrumental organization is composed not only of music students but of all students capable of playing a band instrument who are interested.

Besides furnishing stirring music at athletic contests, it has cooperated in civic affairs. Members have gone on parade on numerous occasions in conjunction with local musical organizations. Repeatedly the Marching Band has proved itself to be indispensable to the social life of the college.

COLLEGE CRITERIONS

FURNISHING music for the regular Saturday night dances and for the three formal events of the year is the big program which the College Criterions have had placed before them. This year, under the baton of Bob Auman, the band seems to have hit a peak. Whatever the order, the "boys" are always there to fill it, and fill it well. Besides playing for dances at the college, the orchestra has gone on numerous outside jobs this year, including Ursinus College, P. M. C., and Pennsylvania State College, always to meet with the whole-hearted approval of its listeners. A leader for next year has not been elected as yet, but we know that he and the entire personnel of the orchestra will continue to furnish fine music for the college social functions.

SYMPHONIC BAND

WHILE the Symphonic Band is composed largely of music students to whom this organization is a regular class period, it is also open to all students of the college who can qualify. The latter are organized as an extra-curricular group with their own officers. As most of the members of the Symphonic Band are accomplished musicians, opportunity is afforded for development through more intimate acquaintance with the best standard works of this branch of musical literature.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

THE Symphony Orchestra, consisting of approximately seventy members, has been renowned during its entire existence for the excellence of its musical productions. Existing as a part of the required music curriculum, but open to all others showing capability for this type work, it has aided the cultural development of the college along musical lines to a marked degree.

The concerts rendered by this group are not exclusive to the college campus; the orchestra has given productions at Kennett Square and Pottstown, and has played appropriate selections at the Easter Services conducted under the auspices of Wanamaker's in Philadelphia. Under expert leadership, these potential artists have laid an excellent foundation for their life's work.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

THIS club provides wholesome recreation and enjoyment, as well as an opportunity for vocal development for students participating in its activities.

Tryouts are held each fall, and those girls fulfilling the requirements most satisfactorily comprise the personnel. Membership, however, is limited to one hundred girls, enrolled in any but the Music Education Curriculum.

Rehearsals are held every Wednesday evening in preparation for participation in the Christmas Carol Service, and a Sunday Morning Chapel Service. The pivotal event of the year was the Annual Spring Concert, presented on March 24, 1939. That same month the club also sponsored a Saturday night dance. The final event of the year was a banquet held in May.

MEMBERSHIP in the Men's Glee Club is open to any male student who can meet the requirements set up for reading ability, tone quality, and artistic musical feeling. Thus its members are drawn from all the curricula of the college. Its purpose is to stimulate and encourage in the students a desire to sing well the better known musical compositions. Each year the club presents a number of concerts in nearby communities. The highlights of this year's activities were the half hour concert over the CBS network and the annual Glee Club Concert at the college.

COLLEGE CHOIR

THE College Choir, comprising one hundred well-balanced voices, is one of the salient features of the highly developed musical program at the college. By rigid selection and precise drilling the student members, under the superb direction of "Uncle Ned", have moulded together a choir that is comparable to the best to be found in any college.

During the past year the group has worked with the combined choruses to produce the traditional Christmas Carol Service, featuring Helen Martin as the honor soloist. A Lenten Vesper Service was also included in the year's activities. The enthusiasm which has been manifested by the able director has carried over to a remarkable degree in the chorus; this joy which they have derived from reproducing musical masterpieces has made the rehearsals well worthwhile and the finished programs accomplishments of supreme satisfaction.

MUSIC CLUB

THE purpose of this club is to promote opportunity for active participation in a variety of professional experiences. Membership this year is limited to the Music Education students of the junior and senior classes. Various problems which the teacher of music will meet were discussed and studied. Talks were given on the subjects, "The problems of the music director in the production of an operetta", "The problems of lighting and staging"; a demonstration was made to show the methods of applying make-up for stage characters in order to secure best results.

In December members of the club produced a playlet entitled "Christmas in Old England" for their own benefit and amusement and are making arrangements to present a student program this spring.

WOMEN'S JUNIOR CHORUS

THE three lower classes of the music curriculum at the college contribute to the personnel of this chorus. Existing for the benefit of the individual girl, it specializes in becoming familiar with music written particularly for women's choral work.

This organization has combined with other choral groups on campus to produce the far-famed Christmas Carol Service. A Sunday morning chapel service was made possible through the musical contributions of these women. The highlight of the year was the annual "Hour of Music" rendered on the second of April; the number creating most comment was a selection for soprano solo and chorus which was written particularly for this chorus by Mr. David Houpt of Upper Darby High School. Final contribution of the season was their assistance in presenting Verdi's "Requiem".

Director

MISS GERTRUDE K. SCHMIDT

MEN'S JUNIOR CHORUS

THE work which is carried on by the Men's Junior Chorus, which is composed of music students in the three lower classes of the college, is really a training course for the advanced choral group, the College Vesper Choir. The chorus is a part of the curriculum required for all men pursuing the music course, but nevertheless it is a source of real enjoyment for those taking part.

This year a very fine library of mostly secular music was installed for the benefit of the chorus. One concert a year is rendered at some neighboring high school, along with small concerts in cooperation with other musical organizations, which are produced on West Chester's campus.

INSTRUMENTAL ENSEMBLE

FURNISHING light classical music for college social functions such as teas and receptions, and for church gatherings in surrounding localities has constituted the work of the Instrumental Ensemble during the two years of its existence on campus.

Aside from the more pleasurable duties of officiating at social functions, there is a technical element which is necessary in attaining this end; namely, the development of sensory skills such as sight reading, mastery of more intricate rhythm problems and a feeling of small musical group consciousness. The commendable progress that this organization has made within the last two years is a promising indication of what is to come.

PHONOGRAPH CLUB

GREAT musical masterpieces are studied and enjoyed by the members of this group. The club is composed of music students who are interested in hearing different selections of pieces played on the phonograph. This year was devoted to an appreciation of the symphonies of Brahms and Tschaikowsky, an understanding of Wagner's "Parsifal", and a consideration of other great compositions.

ENGLISH PROFESSIONAL CLUB

PROFESSIONAL club membership is restricted to those students whose major field is English and who are vitally interested in the teaching of this course. During the year speakers have been brought from surrounding high schools to give their ideas of improved English instruction and to present problems which must be coped with by the teacher in service. The sponsoring of extracurricular activities relative to the field of English is also an important part of the club's activity.

FRENCH PROFESSIONAL CLUB

THE French Professional Club meets twice a month to consider plans for club work in a high school French club. During the year 1938, the club reviewed plays suitable for presentation by high school students, gathered puzzles useful in vocabulary building, exchanged lists of riddles, learned songs, and showed how a club meeting can function actively if the room be turned into a post-office or restaurant.

Data necessary for the presentation of such material were hectographed and distributed to all members by the student in charge of each meeting. All members learned the terms necessary for conducting a business meeting in the French language.

SOCIAL STUDIES PROFESSIONAL CLUB

TO create an opportunity to discuss and evaluate current events of historical importance which are vital to those students who are preparing to teach in the field of social studies is the worthy aim of the Social Studies Professional Club. It is the official history club of the campus and is regarded as an essential educational experience for the prospective teachers in this field.

Interesting lectures, conferences, and discussion of contemporary problems have comprised the activities of the club during this year. These invaluable sessions have been supplemented by field trips to historically important points of Chester County.

DEBATES, guest speakers, drama, and panel discussions are the means by which the Collegiate Peace Council has endeavored to play a small part in bringing about world peace. ART CLUB

OPPORTUNITY for artistic expression is given to the members of this club. Individual participation in both handicraft and original designs constituted the work of the club for the first half of the year. The products were used as Christmas gifts.

The club has acquired a collection of reproductions of famous paintings of old and new masters. These paintings were framed and catalogued for a picture lending library. The purpose of this was not only to serve as room decorations but also to help the students become acquainted with fine paintings. Three projects were participated in by the club during the latter part of the year; these were wood carvings and modernistic paintings in water colors and oils. The best water color paintings were exhibited at the West Chester Art Center.

SECONDARY EDUCATION CLUB

THE ultimate goal of the Secondary Education Club is to foster a group feeling among all students registered in Secondary Education. The programs of the club are usually on Secondary Education problems. One open meeting is held during the year, at which time one who is well qualified to speak on the problems concerning this group addresses the members. The club sponsors one social affair each year. The Secondary Education Club has been in existence since 1924; its insignia was designed by Maurice Stratton, a former president, assisted by Dr. Heathcote.

IN order to bring about a closer bond of friendship and helpful understanding among members of the Rural Curriculum, the Rural Club has endeavored to bring closer to this particular group of students, those problems, educational and social, with which he will meet while carrying on his profession in the rural community. The club, in attempting to attain a national overview of those policies which are so essential to members of its group, has sent delegates to the Pennsylvania Country Life Conference and the American Country Life Conference in Kentucky. Participation in P. T. A. programs, arrangement of noteworthy lectures, and the sponsoring of an annual Rural Day program are the activities which have made for a diversified and well-rounded program.

ELEMENTARY CLUB

THE Elementary Club is a junior professional organization, designed to create professional interest and to provide an opportunity for student teachers and supervisors to mingle socially and to share experiences. An "Activity Exhibition" and a "Hobby Show" brought the activities of the schools into the group for display and discussion. "The First Christmas Tree" was dramatized for the Christmas entertainment. The project committee designed the decorations for the McConkey Kindergarten and provided picture books and blocks through volunteer subscription. Group interests were followed during the last semester, including puppet plays, planning a bulletin, study of P. T. A., manuscript writing, clinical psychology, and dramatics. THE Newman Club is a religious organization of Catholic culture and fellowship. Its purpose is three-fold: religious, educational, and cultural. The club is a member of the National Federation of Newman Clubs. Its program for the past year included many outstanding features. Dr. Francis J. Furey, President of Immaculata College, and Mrs. Sheed, of the London and New York Publishing Firm of Sheed and Ward, were two of the guest speakers. The Newman Club sponsors a group Mass and Communion twice during each school year. Panel discussions on topics of interest to the members were also featured on the club's program.

SCIENCE CLUB

THE Science Club is open to any student on campus who is interested in science as a profession or as a hobby. It has been in existence for a number of years and has always been a stimulus to research and intelligent discussion of scientific problems. This year the club has enjoyed illustrated lectures, field trips, and a harmonious intermingling of ideas through personal contacts in the science laboratories. Interested faculty supervisors have done much toward making the club a success and a source of real benefit to the scientifically-minded.

SCHMUCKER SOCIETY

AN interest in our natural environment has been the stimulus for the organization of the Schmucker Society. Members may be found doing research work in fields and along streams—places where a dynamic, colorful life goes on, unbeknownst to those who have not experienced the satisfactions of this particular study. The name of the club honors Dr. Samuel Schmucker, Professor Emeritus of Biological Sciences at the college, whose name has long been associated with scientific circles, local and national. Having completed its first year of existence, the society is looking forward to better things in years to come.

PROFESSIONAL GEOGRAPHY CLUB

THE Professional Geography Club admits only those whose field is geography. The purpose of the club is to acquaint the student with geographic aids and tools, to familiarize him with kinds of geography clubs and activities, and to stimulate individual interest in the fields of geography. The club was instrumental in the success of the two geography conferences held at the college.

TRAVELERS' CLUB

STUDENTS who are interested in geography are enabled to learn more about people of this and other regions of our country and of the world. Membership is open to students of all curricula. Each semester, one or two trips are planned to nearby places of industry or interest. Meetings are conducted largely by students who report on some travel or other experience, or on some topic about which they have gathered information. These programs are usually enriched by the use of slides, movies, games, or specimens.

VARSITY CLUB

THE Varsity Club is made up of those men who have won a letter in any of the major sports. Its regular meeting place is the "Y" Room of Wayne Hall, where problems pertaining to athletics and their betterment are discussed.

The accomplishments of this club are indicative of its worthwhileness. Sweaters with the varsity emblem are provided for all letter winners; programs for football games are edited and printed under its auspices, and last but not least are the successful dances which the club sponsors twice yearly. These men have been taught the principles of clean, hard play, and on field and court have proved themselves to be advocates of real sportsmanship. Along with the other qualities they possess and the contributions they have made, they have instilled into the hearts of the student body that intangible thing called "school spirit".

QUAD ANGLES

IN addition to its regular service of news and the usual volume of college advertising, Quad Angles endeavored to stimulate student thinking along lines both campus-wide and national and international in scope, via a diversified editorial policy. Through the Campus Inquirer column, a cross section of campus opinion was taken on several important items of interest.

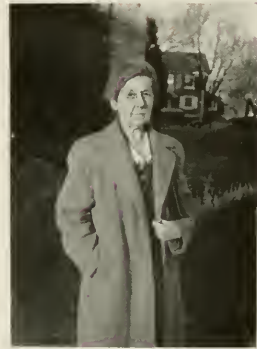

Quad sponsored several contests during the course of the term—a short short story contest, an auction and contract bridge tournament, and a popular orchestra contest. Members of the staff took a leading role at the fall convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association at Gettysburg and at the spring convention at Dickinson. An unusually large number of staff members afforded the opportunity for rotation of duties and the assumption of responsibilities—excellent training for potential journalists.

SERPENTINE

THE members of the Serpentine staff in selecting a theme for the yearbook chose the family album not only for its creative possibilities but also for its own implications. There is no greater institution than the family, and there is no deeper joy than that derived from true family relationships. We have had this sympathetic understanding and cooperation in working out this book from class members, faculty, and underclassmen.

We ask for no praise. An appreciation of the burdens and responsibilities necessary for this tremendous production is our only wish. If you, in the course of the years, delight in viewing and reviewing its pages and feel genuinely proud of it, then we have attained our end.

Auf wiedersehen, au revoir, adios, good-bye. Reluctantly we say farewell and close the pages of our family album. To our friends we leave behind the hope that our meagre accomplishments may be a tiny step in a march to greater heights that are bound to come.

MATHEMATICS CLUB

THE Mathematics Club is open to juniors and seniors who are studying mathematics as one of their major fields. Even though it is a professional club, intended primarily for aiding prospective teachers in this field, the fundamentals of mathematics are constantly stressed.

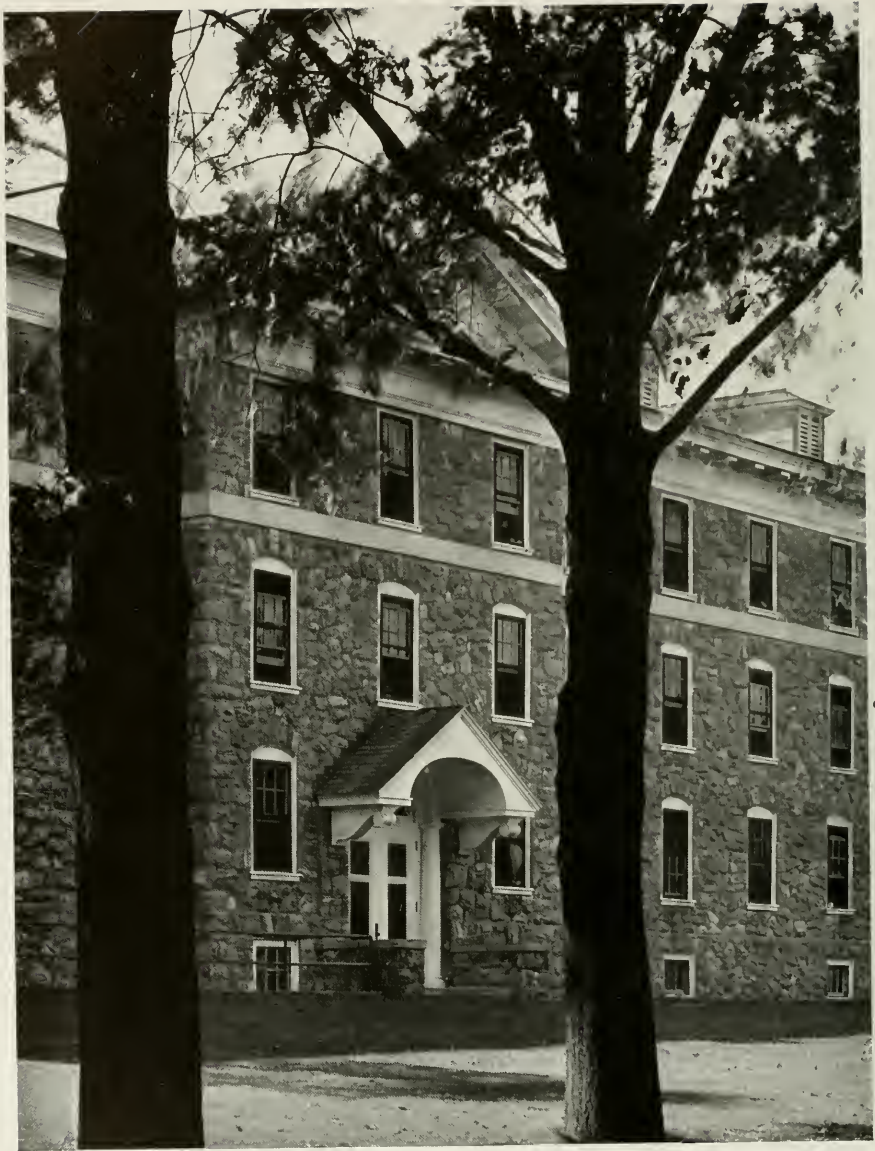

The activities of the club this year have been largely centered around the principles of surveying. Practical application of this science was accomplished by field trips and the measuring of various plots of ground on campus. Dr. Robert Anderson, former professor of mathematics at the college, has aided immeasurably in simplifying and in making practical the more complex principles of surveying.

WAYNE HALL ENTRANCE

DARING PROWESS

A MIDST all the mental and cultural development that takes place at this, or any other college, there is a phase of training that must not be lost sight of—that of clean, hard play. It has been the goal of all the athletic directors at West Chester to bring about in men and women a sound physical body and a keen sense of playing the game fairly.

Not always have our teams been successful when measured in terms of victories; still, there was developed in each player a sense of sportsmanship and self-sacrifice that will surely carry over into the work which he is about to begin. Always it has been a give and take affair. If an athlete can take all his opponent has to offer and still return more than he has received, he has played the game well.

It is our intention in these pages that follow not to boast, but to record a short history of athletic activities at the college during this past year. If our teams were not always champions in the true sense of the word, we know that they were champions just as much as the group that never tasted defeat, inasmuch as they always kept on trying, even though victory was not always theirs.

FOOTBALL—1938

Coach Killinger

A RETROSPECTIVE glance over the battles of the Rams brings forth a feeling of satisfaction, a feeling made possible only by a team which gives its all in a season of hard-fought frays. Four clean-cut victories, two defeats, and three ties were recorded in the annals by the men who fought for the Teachers in 1938.

Remembering the pleasure of 1937 victories over the P. M. C. Cadets, the Rams decided that another victory would not be out of order. With this thought in mind, a very impressive 27-14 win was attained on September 16, under the arcs of a well-audiened Wayne Field. The airway was the medium of success on this particular evening, as Jack Harris and Jimmy Ward coupled their passing talents to complete fifty percent of attempted passes, four of which counted six apiece for the Purple and Gold. A punt recovered by end Mike Shello in the second quarter placed the ball twenty yards from the scoring stripe. Ward then passed to Gauntlett on the three, and another Ward toss to towering Art Farley clinched the initial six points. Bob Nye then made the first of three successful conversions.

A blocked kick by Nye, a recovered fumble by Dick Gracey, both followed by passes from Harris, accounted for twelve more points. The evening's score was totaled by a pass from Ward to Gauntlett, which definitely climaxed another first-night success for the homesters.

The results of the second battle on Wayne Field proved discouraging for Ram adherents as they sent their team against St. Joseph's College. After several early moment flashes in the form of a Ward-Shello-Gracey pass and lateral for twenty yards, and a thirty-five yard thrust by "Wild Bill" Strattan, the team lost semblance of the winning machine it had been against

Manager Kozik

P. M. C. The locals earned eight first downs against six for the Hawks, but a few well-timed laterals, a blocked kick, and a field goal by the visitors put Captain Asnes' charges on the far end of a 17-0 score.

Shello

Leaving home for the first time, the Killingersmen issued out a 13-6 ultimatum to their hosts at East Stroudsburg. Trailing by six points as the third period drew to a close, the visitors found that missing punch and pushed across the tying score. In the closing minutes of the fray, a twenty-five yard pass, Gauntlett to Gracey, set the stage for plunges by Gauntlett and Strattan, and a fruitful crossing of the broad stripe by

UNDER THE ARCS

Ward. Bob Nye increased the total to thirteen by an accurate placement.

Returning to local turf, the pedagogs added one more to the credit column by subduing a scrappy Geneva team, thus avenging a previous 7-6 defeat at the hands of the Beaver Falls lads. A first thrust by the invaders was stifled on the two yard stripe as Mike Shello fell on a fumble. A blocked kick by Bob Nye and Ernie Mowbray on the opponent's twenty was gathered in by Asnes, who trotted, untouched, across the final margin. A powerful sixty yard march earned Captain Rosselli's mates their lone counter in the final period. Not to be outdone, the Rams retaliated with a seventy-five yard scoring drive, good for seven points.

The evening of October fourteenth was destined to stand as the highlight of the 1938 grid campaign, as the Purple and Gold faced the Explorers from LaSalle. An eager, fighting team took the field against an opponent which had seven times previously tasted the fruits of victory. Jimmy "Rabbit" Ward proceeded to put

Strattan

Donahey

Kershaw

Windish

Trego

Eyre, Graduate Manager

an end to this feasting by means of a brilliant passing and running attack. Attempting to pass from the twenty yard line, Ward was trapped and had to run; there followed an exciting left end dash which brought forth a coveted six points. In the third period, guard Glenn Miller added another six points as he crashed through the line to fall on a fumble dropped by Harry Williams, who was attempting to kick from behind his own goal line. Bob Nye failed to add the extra point, and the total stood 12-0.

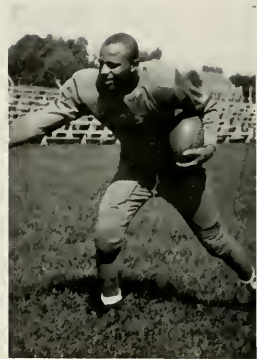

A rainy evening set the stage for a rather fruitless contest, as the Flying Dutchmen from Kutztown visited Wayne Field and held their hosts to a scoreless tie. The Purple and Gold banner was, on three occasions, carried quite close to victory promise, but fumbles and tactic misjudgment stepped in to deprive the homesters of a victory. A forty-eight yard sideline dash by Bill Strattan furnished one of the few real thrills of the game.

ROSSELLI KICKS!

Nye

Ward

Gray

Another wet field greeted the Rams when they arrived at Lock Haven Teachers College to meet the Bald Eagles. A rather listless battle ensued, with Captain Asnes' men ruling the situation for the major portion of the game. Late in the second period Ward heaved twenty yards to Gracey, placing the oval on the home team's twenty-five. Another Ward airliner placed the ball on the ten stripe. A lateral to Ward and a plunge by Strattan placed six points on the board for West Chester. A surge of new life seemed to take hold of the Bald Eagles as they pushed across their lone tally in the third period to even the count and end the day's scoring.

The gridders visited Waynesburg on November 11 and were turned away with a 13-6 defeat. A long pass by Brooks in the second stanza resulted in the first Yellowjacket score. In the next period, Brooks again was featured as he plunged through the line for eleven yards, and then shot a pass over the line for the final tally. The Rams continued to battle to the whistle, and during the closing period drove home with a Ward to Meyers pass. The hosts were successful in holding their seven point margin for the remaining moments of the game.

Turkey Day found the turf at P. M. C. chilled by sleety blasts, as our lads were held to a scoreless draw by their early season victims. Although the game was scoreless, both teams fought hard and presented the chilled spectators with an interesting football game. Frank Jacobs, a junior, who was a utility man most of the season, came into his own with excellent punting and fine all-around performance. His efforts, added to the fine work of retiring seniors, provided a fitting climax to a successful football season.

It is with regret that we say farewell to the departing seniors. True, other capable men will take their places; West Chester teams will continue to shroud their Alma Mater in glory, but the fighting spirit of these men will long remain. Not always have their efforts been rewarded with victory; still, they have the satisfaction that they have done their best.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

IN preparation for future varsity competition, the Frosh footballers swung into action with a six game schedule against well selected opponents, who, by putting forth stubborn resistance, furnished the kind of competition needed to weld a green team into a smooth functioning machine.

Opening the season with Carney's Point Y. M. C. A. of New Jersey, the Ramlets received their first setback in a game which was more evenly contested than the score indicates. Though a local aerial attack functioned surprisingly well for an inexperienced team, the boys from across the Delaware were able to cross the wide stripe three times with but a single retaliation from the Graham-men.

Coach Graham selected a one hundred fifty pound "pony" team for competition against a lighter Hill School aggregation, which they met twice, each taking a turn at denting the win column. The yearlings had their fling under the arcs of Wayne Field as they met, and were defeated by the Temple University first year men. Williamson Trade School fell victim to the attack of the Frosh moleskin wearers in their third trip to strange soil. Journeying to Pennington Prep School the locals lacked the punch to take advantage of numerous opportunities and were sent homeward with an unimpressive scoreless tie.

SOCCKER — 1938

WINNING soccer games at West Chester is rapidly becoming second nature to the men who are so ably coached in the use of their feet by one Earle C. Waters. Nine of the ten opponents encountered felt the stigma of a defeat administered in the Purple and Gold manner. An examination of the records of the Rams to date brings to light the sparkling string of seventy-four out of seventy-eight battles won by Waters-coached elevens.

Without the advantage of the usual warm-up fray with the Alumni, the Rams opened their campaign with a romping victory over Franklin and Marshall College. Paced by Calvin Smedley at center forward, who had three pay-off drives, Captain Bairstow's men proceeded to make the home turf an uncomfortable place for the

Coach Waters

Captain Bairstow

Manager Mazza

visitors. A goal by Bairstow and a long side shot by "Bunny" Henderson rounded the day's onslaught in a 5 to 0 count.

Leaving home soil on October eleventh, the Purple and Gold sharpshooters tamed the Bears of Ursinus. A successful penalty kick by the Scarlet and Black, after the Rams were charged with unnecessary roughness, earned them their only score. Captain Bairstow stole the show as he took the lion's share of scoring honors. After tying the score in the second period, Eddie again hit home in the closing moments of the third canto. For the final score, Smedley took a long drive from Don Mease and passed to Eddie, who sank the ball from a sharp angle.

The next victim of Coach Waters' booters was the completely outclassed Courtland College team. The 3 to 0 score is not indicative of the fact that most of the game was played in the shadow of the opponent's goal posts. Cal Smedley opened hostilities as he pushed in a shot from scrimmage early in the opening period. George Robinson, small running mate of Captain Bairstow, closed the initial half with a clever angle shot which caught the Red Dragon's goalie flatfooted. An unusual long range drive by Boyd Stauffer in the third period proved to be a picturesque finale to the day's scoring.

The Rams extended their seasonal streak to four wins as they pushed aside the Mountaineers of East Stroudsburg. Not until the third period did the locals accept

Betley

Smedley

Hickman

Wigoff

one of the numerous scoring chances offered them. Finally, Manny Wigoff sank a long pass which came in from Bairstow. A second score followed quickly as Carman Storti drove one into the net from close quarters.

A confident Ithaca team invaded the local soccer bowl on October twenty-ninth, and was repulsed by the all-but flawless Watersmen. Cal Smedley drew first blood in a dazzling dribble down mid-field to score in the early period. A 1938 Ram record was ended in the third period when the first goal, from scrimmage, was scored against them. The locals opened serious battle in the fourth quarter, driving the sphere to the enemy's net on three occasions. Don Mease drove one in on a fast break; Smedley scored his second, again down the middle, and Georgie Robinson made it an even four.

On November second, Seton Hall met the fate of most Purple and Gold opponents, leaving Wayne Field on the wrong side of a 3 to 1 bracket. Center forward Smedley again proved his mettle by sinking two goals in the opening period. The visitors were never able to match the skill of their hosts, but managed to sneak in one of the few enemy markers of the season. Although the Hallers' goalie was kept quite busy for the remainder of the contest, only Boyd Stauffer was able to penetrate for the final one-pointer.

The next rival to face the Purple and Gold was Western Maryland University, one of the few teams able to boast of a previous victory over Coach Waters' charges. Since the Green Terrors accomplished this unique feat in 1937, it is little wonder that they were swept from the field in 1938 by revengeful Rams. Manny Wigoff, Johnny Hartz, Don Mease, and Dave Bashist were the sharpshooters who presented the visitors with a discouraging 5 to 0 shutout.

Storti

Lawson

Salisbury bid nobly for a victory over the powerful Wayne Fielders on November 12, but was overtaken by the stamina of a relentless soccer combine. The contest was a give and take affair most of the way, and Salisbury can be credited with the strongest defensive offering of all opponents up to this point of the schedule. George Robinson settled the question of superiority as he outwitted the goalie in the final period.

The Cherry and White of Temple University laid the heavy robe of defeat upon the shoulders of eleven sturdy booters on November 18 in Philadelphia. For the first time of the season, the Rams were not the first to strike, as Nemchick drove one to the cords. The Teachers came back strong, however, as Manny Wigoff evened the count with a clever fake and shot, which caught the Temple goalie on his heels. The Owls struck the final blow as Ed Tapp headed a pass into the cage to clinch a 2-1 victory.

Back in stride again, Coach Waters' booters repulsed their Wheaton rivals in a 3 to 0 win. After the team had missed several setup shots, Georgie Robinson angled in a shot from the right corner. Captain Bairstow ended his college scoring by cleverly heading a well placed corner kick into the net. Cal Smedley closed the activities with the team's thirtieth goal for the year. Thus ended another splendid season, the like of which can be boasted by few other college teams.

FRESHMAN SOCCER

THE Frosh booters recorded one of the greatest seasons in freshman soccer history. Blanked only by a scoreless stalemate with Avon-Grove High School in the opening encounter, the Ramlets went on to win their seven remaining games with little trouble.

Beacom College, Harrington High, Whitpaine High, and Hill School all fell by the wayside as did Episcopal, Avon-Grove, and Goldey. Only once was the Ramlet net dented, and this lone enemy tally deprived the boys of another remarkable record.

Captain Ken Webb led the team ably from the goalie post, and was supported by such promising players as "Wacky" Wackenhut, Paul Buono, Pollock, Hoch, Lieth, Challen, Cavanaugh, Robinson, Whitman, Klank, and Kramaroff. These men blended their talents under the direction of Coach Benner into a winning machine, and it looks as though the varsity squad of next season will have little trouble in adding to that impressive string of victories when its ranks are swelled by these capable yearlings.

CROSS COUNTRY — 1938

TRAVELING nearly two thousand miles, the Purple and Gold's 1938 cross country varsity carried the banners of West Chester State creditably as they turned in a season's record of four victories and three defeats. After a premature opening defeat at the hands of Franklin and Marshall College's Diplomats, by the score of 33 to 22 at Lancaster, the Ram runners journeyed out to Pittsburgh and took Carnegie Tech's harriers into camp with nearly a perfect score, 19 to 36. Tony Stancato, Bill Watson, and Cliff Morgan featured the Smokey City run by finishing in a three-way tie for first honors.

There was a slight let-down the following week when Bloomsburg State defeated the West Chester team, 33 to 22, on the victors' mountainous course. The University of Pennsylvania was the victim of a comeback effort the following week when the Rams routed the Quakers, 20 to 35, in the local's first home stand. A surprise win over Bloomsburg was turned in over the home course, 27 to 28, when the Huskies reported for a return engagement early in November. Their Danny Kemple, who won the race in 3 minutes and 28 seconds, was credited with a new record for the West Chester course. A rout of the New York State Aggies at Alfred University completed the season's triumphs when the Empire Staters went down by a 20 to 35 score. Temple University was credited with a "sportsmanship" win here in a spirited finale, 30 to 25. Victory was virtually extended to the Owls when their lead men were conceded the race after going off the course near the finish after maintaining a slight advantage over Watson and Stancato, the Rams lead men.

Captain Shotts

Ken Shotts, the lone senior member of the squad, captained and coached the Purple and Gold's '38 team. The only member to graduate, he leaves behind hopes for a history-making team for next year. He is to be succeeded in the captaincy and coaching duties by Bill Watson, who, with Tony Stancato, Cliff Morgan, and ten other experienced men, should make the Rams hard to beat in 1939.

BASKETBALL—1938-'39

FACING an active twenty game schedule which opened on December ninth with Wake Forest College, the Ram basketekers turned in nine victories against eleven defeats. After starting rather slowly by dropping the first two encounters, the courtmen alternated between victory and defeat, never quite able to grasp that elusive element which sparks a team to consecutive conquests.

In the opening fray against Wake Forest, the locals were well on their way to a victory until the final eleven minutes of the game, at which time their Southern rivals went into the lead for the first time. Oddly enough, the game was won from the free throw line, as Wake Forest netted ten charity points to none for the Purple and Gold. Each team registered seventeen double pointers from the floor.

Captain Shello

Mike Shello paced the homesters with a brilliant performance which garnered him fourteen points.

Journeying to Chestertown, Maryland to meet Washington College, the Ram five met a team which was inspired by the spectacular play of one Zeke Zabrowski. This sharp-eyed center was deadly from the foul line, from which point he placed thirteen for thirteen tries through the ring. To this he added four from the floor for a disastrous total of twenty-one markers. The visitors played commendable ball, but the hosts were not to be denied.

The next two games, played at home, proved to be more encouraging for the Killinger men. East Stroudsburg and P. M. C. fell victim by one point margins as they went down 45-44 and 37-36 respectively. Both games were nip and tuck affairs. Steve Partel saved many from heart failure by closing the heated Stroudsburg setto with his one hand specialty from the quarter mark. The P. M. C. battle drew an extra period, which was a hectic affair. Five points were added by P. M. C. and matched with six by the Rams. Partel and Malsberger kept things alive with double deckers, and Mike Shello clinched the victory as he parted the cords for the necessary two points.

Playing their third game in four days, the courtmen were no match for the Explorers from LaSalle, who subdued them 46 to 31. An early lead of fourteen points was pared to two by the Rams in the first half, but the second half found the Explorers again surging ahead as the homesters failed to register from under the basket. Malsberger and Pickel stood out for the home team with seven markers apiece.

Another final minute exhibition enabled the Rams to return from Delaware University with the spoils of a 32 to 30 victory. Steve Partel again filled the Merriwell role by sinking the winning double from deep court in the closing moments.

Millersville State Teachers College and the Penn Athletic Club succeeded in chasing the Rams back to the losing column. The veteran Millers were at their best and, paced by their jump-shot artist, Eheman, held their hosts to a 45 to 34 count. The array of former collegiate stars of the Penn Athletic Club managed to stave off two gallant Ram rallies to win by a scant three point margin.

The next six games found the locals falling into a rather monotonous won-lost-won-lost tempo as they failed to enter into a winning groove. Geneva, Penn A. C., and Delaware University fell by the wayside, while East Stroudsburg, Bloomsburg, and Millersville emerged on the long end of the scoring figures. Three more losses at the hands of Kutztown, LaSalle, and Westminster were suffered before the Rams nosed skyward to finish the season in their strongest winning drive; three straight.

An impressive victory over a previously vanquished P. M. C. team started the home stretch comeback. The Rams ran up a lead of twelve points before the Cadets were able to find the basket, which lead they held, although reduced to two points, until the halfway mark. P.M.C.

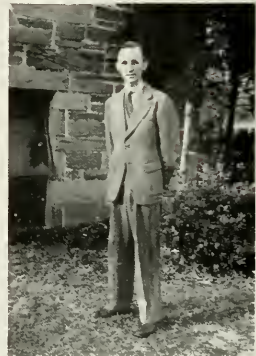

tied the score in the opening moments of the second half, but the Purple and Gold again applied the pressure and went on to win in an impressive manner. Bob Brown earned scoring honors with sixteen points; Shello and Partel trailed closely with thirteen apiece.

The Ithaca contest was another of those hairbreath battles which were so popular on the basketball card for the season. Trailing at the half by six points, the Black and White staged a rally which, after the score had been evened, resulted in a thrill-packed, give and take battle. Bob Brown's long range goal in the closing moments settled the well-contested ball game.

The season's finale found the court combine in fine shape as they swept to a creditable 38 to 30 win over a previously victorious Kutztown team. Four parting seniors, Jack Metzgar, Harold McSparran, Howard Pickel, and Captain Mike Shello, turned in splendid performances before laying aside their Purple and Gold uniforms for the last time. Bob Brown, junior star, paced the locals with fifteen points, to swell his seasonal total to 173. This total, incidentally, set up a new all-time West Chester scoring record. The game was well played throughout, and partly atoned for the previous defeats by showing that the men kept plugging to the very end of a rather trying season.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL — 1938

THE Ramlets, coached for the second year by Lloyd Lux, turned in an excellent record for the year. Winning five straight before they were stopped by the Temple Frosh, the yearlings went on to win 13 out of 16 starts.

Jay Smith and Doug Connelly, former high school teammates, proved to be a high scoring combine at the forward berths. Towering Johnny Kizawich, always dependable at the tap position, was aided ably by Gere, Miller, and Challen. Seeing plenty of action at the forward posts were Jack Duke, Amarnick, Ward, Frezza, and Harry Duke. The rear court was guarded in fine style by the performances of Tompkins, Elliot, Webb, Mauer, and Dondrea.

Temple Frosh and Brown Prep proved to be the only stumbling blocks in a strenuous sixteen game schedule. The Temple Owlets proved to be too strong for the local yearlings on two occasions, while the teams of Lighthouse Boys Club, P. M. C. Junior Varsity, Beacom College, Triangle A. C., Swarthmore Frosh, Lincoln Prep, Norristown Y. M. C. A., Philadelphia Business School, and Goldey College were defeated in very convincing fashion.

SWIMMING TEAM

FINISHING their fifth and by far their most successful season, the Ram natators last winter compiled a total of $382\frac{1}{2}$ points, while holding their opponents to a count of $283\frac{1}{2}$. Led by Captain Frank Hollick, the Purple and Gold swimmers won seven out of nine meets, and earned for themselves an enviable name in eastern intercollegiate ranks. In giving the best performance of all West Chester winter sports teams, the Ram tankmen upset such favored opponents as Delaware, Slippery Rock, Temple, Swarthmore, and Brooklyn, while losing to Penn State and Rider, two colleges with real names in intercollegiate circles.

Under the tutelage of Coach Charles Graham, the squad made an overnight trip to Penn State and a two-day trip to New York City to meet Rider and Seton Hall.

Top honors for point-scoring went to William Riddle, who compiled a total of 74 points. Francis Paxson was second with 48 points, while Henry Donnon, captain-elect, was third with 44.

With participating manager French Gray being the only member of the team to graduate, the squad has been left intact for the 1940 season. The freestyle events were taken care of by Bill Riddle, George Gottshall, French Gray, Art Farley, and "Sleepy" White. Bud Breuninger and Hen Donnon were the backstrokers, while Captain Frank Hollick, "Tiger" Twardowski, and Jack Seal handled the breaststroke. The diving event was in the hands of Bud Paxson and "Our Boy" Murphy. Dave Philips was acting assistant manager.

GYM TEAM

AFTER an unsuccessful start against the "physical-edders" of Panzer College, the muscle artists of West Chester won the remainder of their meets in decisive fashion.

The initial meet was closely contested, and the Panzer lads won out mainly because of the sterling work of their star performer, Captain Fand. Don Kirk and Gene Drozd, yearling additions to the team, scored wins for the Rams as they captured the high bar and mats respectively. Drozd also placed on the side horse, and Kirk took second on the rings. Pint-sized Johnny Tasso, Tommy Triol, and Doug Carr helped to swell the losers' total.

The gymnasts next scored a win over an outclassed Kutztown aggregation by the score of 43 to 11. Winning all but one event of the six, the Watersmen looked extremely good. Don Kirk sparked the attack with three first places, winning the high bar, the parallel bars, and the rings. Other placers were Carr on rope, rings, and high bar, Johnny Eubank on the parallels, Harry Thaete on horse and rings, Tom Triol on horse and rope, with Drozd and Earl Mays taking the two top places on the mats.

The highlight of the season came when the local gymnasts gained revenge by defeating a strong Panzer aggregation on the home apparatus. This victory was significant in light of the fact that the East Orange lads tasted defeat for the first time in three years. Doug Carr led the way as he captured two of the five firsts garnered by his mates. He won the high bar with smooth form and hustled up the rope to win in 5.9 seconds. Other top place winners were Captain Johnny Eubank on the parallels and Don Kirk on the rings, while Gene Drozd took care of the tumbling assignment.

The Flying Dutchmen from Kutztown went down in defeat for the second time by a score of 30 to 24. The up-staters showed improvement over their previous appearance, but were not equal to the ever-strengthening Rams.

The team, although meeting only four opponents, was kept quite active by giving six exhibitions at various high schools. As there will be only one team member lost by graduation, Captain Eubank, the prospects look very bright for the next campaign.

runner-up position after Ward, McNab, and Lawson backed him with fine performances.

After a cancelation of the initial scheduled dual meet with Washington College, the tracksters swung into action when they were host to the teams of LaSalle and Albright in a triangular meet. Paced by Jimmy Ward and Harry Johnson, dusky comets, the Rams captured all eight running events to sweep the field with a total of $84\frac{1}{4}$ points. LaSalle garnered $47\frac{1}{2}$ points to $23\frac{1}{4}$ for Albright. Ward captured three firsts with sterling performances in the 100 and

WITH the customary visit to the Penn Relays, the college mile relay team inaugurated a short but successful track season. Eubank tied for first in the high jump with Berry of LaSalle, while Lee Lawrence and Jack McNab added the pole vault to the Purple and Gold cause.

For the second successive year, the trackmen were forced to play second fiddle to a strong Bloomsburg team in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Championships which was held at Shippensburg. Harry Johnson led the record-smashing parade with a brace of victories as he glided home with a 50.5 quarter and a 2.01.5 half mile. Frosh Tommy Kretz upset advance dope when he cracked the broad jump 220 yard dashes and the broad jump, chalking up the excellent time of 9.9 and 21.8 seconds respectively for the dashes, and a leap of 21 feet 6½ inches in the jump.

Johnson and Cal Smedley shared second place, scoring honors as they each captured two events, the former romping off with the quarter and the half mile runs, and the latter capturing the two hurdle events. Bill Watson and Eddie Otwell added their names to the win column by taking the mile and two mile grinds respectively. On the field, Johnny record with a leap of 21 feet 11½ inches. Jimmy Ward suffered his first college defeat as Bloomsburg's fleet Van Devender nosed him out in the 220 yard dash. Ward, however, atoned for his defeat with a remarkable 9.9 seconds in the century on a sodden track. Lee Lawrence and Jack McNab were the only other outstanding performers on the field, as they coupled their talents to share honors in the pole vault.

On Saturday, May twenty-eighth, the college mile relay annexed the college mile event at the Atlantic City Relays for the second straight year. Their time of 3:31 broke their own previous record. Another typical Johnson stretch drive earned gold medals for the Rams, after Ward, Ken Shotts, and Jack Lawson had kept the Teachers in the race for three laps.

With hopes of returning to a full schedule next season, the cinderpathers should fare well against all opposition. Although several valuable point winners were lost by graduation, Coach Waters will undoubtedly mold a team which will further advance the Purple and Gold banner.

W R E S T L I N G

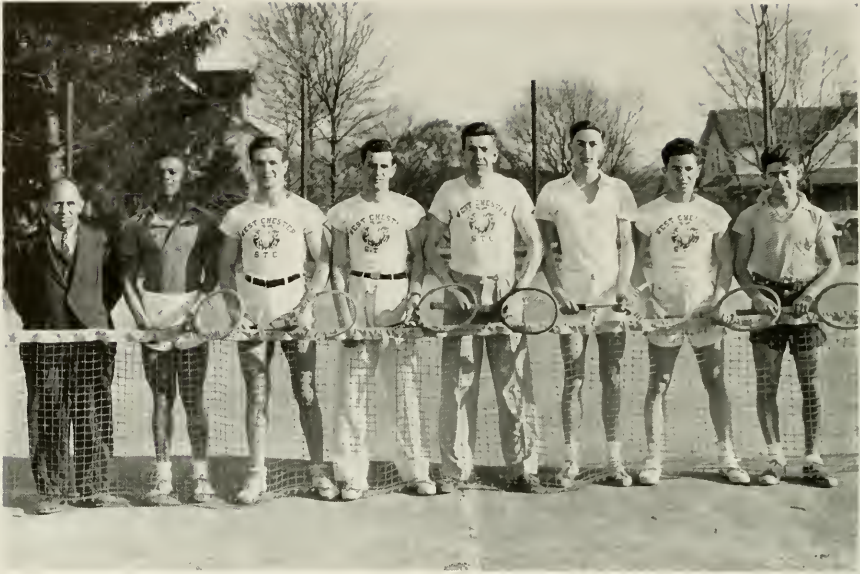

A SMALL band of hard working men has been engaged in efforts to put wrestling across as a recognized intercollegiate sport for the Teachers. The "grunt and groaners" practiced faithfully for several weeks and finally secured a meet with Muhlenberg College. Although the largely untried team was defeated, there is every indication that it has paved the way toward a creditable schedule for next year.

LARGELY through the efforts of Bill Hickman, a senior who has been acting as playing-coach for the past three years, there has been an increasing interest in lacrosse on the campus. The squad now boasts of some fine equipment and a number of enthusiastic huskies. Within the next few years this sport should come into its own on the West Chester sports roster.

TENNIS TEAM

WITH their playing environment improved many fold by the erection of the very latest in court equipment, the Ram raquetmen are shaping themselves into form under the able guidance of Coach "Charlie" Graham. The bulk of last year's squad has returned, so that each man has had at least one season of valuable competitive experience.

The 1938 campaign brought forth victories over Washington College, Panzer College, Lutheran Seminary, Pennsylvania Military College, and LaSalle. The University of Pennsylvania, Rider College, Swarthmore College, and the University of Delaware were among the teams which gave the men of Graham their most trouble, but they are determined to turn the tables in future meetings.

Captain Harry Levitsky and Cliff Owen can always be counted on to come through with creditable performances as they alternate between the first and second court positions. Owen last year had the excellent record of winning eleven matches out of thirteen starts. Other veteran performers who will see much active service this year are Joe Russial, Bob Haines, Mike Shello, Havard Clarke, Jack Metzgar, and Howard Davies.

An unusually long and impressive roster has been arranged for the Purple and Gold as they face several new opponents in their 1939 schedule of twenty matches.

GOLF TEAM

PLAYING one of the most complete and difficult schedules in West Chester golfing history, the local greensmen measured favorably with such colleges and universities as St. Joseph's, Haverford, Rutgers, Temple, and P. M. C.

Led by Captain Carman Storti, thrice leader of Ram forces, the clubmen had little trouble in out-shooting the Hawks of St. Joseph's College. Tommy Clifford and Joe Cave also won their matches, while Howard Pickel deadlocked with his man.

Other club swingers who trampled fairway and green for the Ram cause were Jack Hinchey, Ed Moynihan, Bill Kirk, and Don McPherson. Beside winning their opener from the Hawks, these men were able to down the Cadets from P. M. C. twice and also to subdue Rutgers by an impressive 8 to 1 win.

Captain Storti

Captain Storti's charges have already launched their 1939 schedule with wins over Haverford and St. Joseph's, and are continuing to practice faithfully for what promises to be a noteworthy season. The remainder of the schedule includes matches with the following:

BASEBALL—1938

THE 1938 diamond aggregation, under the able tutelage of Coach Glenn Killinger, opened its season with two rather unhappy encounters, but after a win and another loss, was able to highlight the season with a five game winning streak. Several victories were denied by small margins, and the Rams found their season closing with the eighth win in fourteen starts.

The opening game with Delaware University found both teams in opening-day form with a loosely played game. Both pitching staffs took a pounding as Delaware won out in a late inning rally of three runs. In contrast, the second game with Washington College was a well-played affair. The excellent pitching of Alden Ramsdell went for naught as the Ram bat bearers were held powerless by Washington's potential big leaguer, Lefty Coeples.

Coach Killinger

The first win came as Pennsylvania Military College went down before a Purple and Gold seventeen hit barrage of base hits combined with the Cadet's comedy of errors. An easy 13 to 6 victory was recorded. Slipping again, the Rams went down as Delaware subdued them for the second time, mainly because of the failure of any member of the local pitchingstaff to stand up and deliver.

At this point in the schedule, the Killinger men embarked upon their five game winning march. The first victim was Rutgers University. Vince Phillips pounded a round-tripper with two aboard to spark a seven-run rally which clinched the team a 13 to 6 victory. Bloomsburg next fell by the wayside as Harlan Keating gave a brilliant exhibition of pitching, holding the visitors to one hit. Meeting the Cadets from Chester for the second time, Stratton and Robinson pitched airtight ball, coupled with timely hitting by Brown and Gracey, which enabled the Wayne Fielders to balance the budget with four wins and four losses to date. In a free scoring setto on local turf against the Big Red of Ithaca, the Rams were paced by the sensational frosh slugger, Jesse Bennyish, who hammered out three successive home runs and a double to send the visitors home on the short end of an 18 to 10 count. Continuing their parade of runs across the rubber, the home-sters won their fifth in as many starts by defeating a weaker Millersville club with a steady barrage of base hits to all corners of the lot.

Striving for their sixth straight win, Coach Killinger's minions went down to a 14 to 12 defeat at the hands of Duke's powerful Blue Devils. Long range hitting by Jacobs and Phillips went for naught in the closely contested battle. Facing the Rams for the fourth time in two years, pitcher Lefty Copples of Washington College played a large part in aiding his aggregation to defeat the locals in an unspectacular manner.

Returning to base hit form the Ram bats brought forth a 10 to 8 win over Indiana State Teachers College. Featured throughout by long range hitting, the game developed into a real slugfest, winding up with the Killinger men again chalking one up on the credit side. In a loosely played game characterized by numerous miscues on the part of the men wearing the local colors, the University of Pennsylvania took a decided advantage by hammering out a 7 to 2 victory.

Closing the season with what we hope will be the carry-over spirit for the 1939 season, the Purple and Gold upset a highly-praised Penn A. C. aggregation by a 10 to 7 count.

W. A. A.

The keynote to this year's extensive and diversified program of intra-mural sports and extra-curricular activities for women lies in the Women's Athletic Association. This organization is one of the largest found on campus. Unlike "dame nature" W. A. A. believes in three seasons per year. So with the weather man's permission such outdoor activities as hiking, archery, volleyball, hockey, golf, riflery, horseback riding, tennis, and badminton are offered by the W. A. A. as part of the seasonal program to take place in the spring and fall, while shuffleboard, basketball, ping-pong, fencing, darts, swimming, tap dancing, table tennis, classes in modern dance, roller skating and social dancing help to make the winter schedule of interesting indoor sports. In addition to sports pleasures derived from participation in a daily program, oftentimes for members of W. A. A. the door opens to a unique and wider realm of experience in the way of play-days at Temple, University of Pennsylvania, and Immaculata; and to special trips to dance demonstrations. Through all these activities, both on and off campus, W. A. A. aims to provide entertainment for leisure hours, develop skills useful in later life, and to build up those qualities of character that seem to be most desirable, its purpose being the development and enhancement of the individual girl. We feel that it has succeeded admirably.

COUNCIL

Miss Wade

May 1939—This last meeting of the W. A. A. Council is called to order by our competent president, Jane Richter, for the sole purpose of reviewing the Council's accomplishments during the past months of service.

Up to date the secretary's minutes of previous meetings show that with the help of our faculty advisers, Miss Leach and Miss Wade, the Council has endeavored in every way possible to realize its goal as set forth in the club's motto, "A sport for every girl, and every girl a sportswoman."

The accomplishments or stepping stones which lead us to the realization of our goal are recognized by others as they roller skate to the music of the Magna Vox, represent the school in interscholastic games, enjoy participation in mixed tournaments, and go horseback riding or to the rifle club.

Such numerous accomplishments as these are and were possible only through the combined efforts and cooperation as shown by every individual of this year's Council. Special acknowledgment should be made at this time to Eleanor Wesley for her fine piece of work on the basketball program and to Mabel Geiger, our treasurer.

With the closing of this book which brings our term of office to an end, the president extends to our successors her wish and the wish of the Council that next year, their year, be even more successful.

And so the meeting of the W. A. A. Council for the year 1938-39 is adjourned for the last time.

President, JANE RICHTER

HEALTH EDUCATION HOCKEY

FOR the first three years of their college athletic careers these "Hockeyiteers" were wearing out shoe leather, taking "bumps on the shins", and expending a limitless supply of energy on the hockey field, only to see some other class team carry off the championship each year. Of course they had fun with it all. It's fun to play the game, but it's more fun to win. So with that interpretation one might say, "This year these 'Hockeyiteers', the Senior Health Eds, had the most fun—they won the tournament."

Competition was not strong until the Seniors met the Juniors, last year's champs; then the battle royal began. It was a hard but clean fought battle between these two evenly matched teams. The Juniors scored first; not to be outdone, the Seniors proceeded to do the same. With the score one to one, it still was any man's game, until in the last half minute of play the Seniors scored again—then the whistle, and the "Hockeyiteers" were victorious two to one.

HEALTH EDUCATION BASKETBALL

THE Health Education Basketball season reached its climax when the Sophomores met the Seniors to settle that ever vital question, "Just who will be the basketball champs?" For thirty-two minutes the question was in the air while the two teams fought it out in a fast-passing, closely-guarded game of few fouls and fewer baskets. At the close of the first half the score was 9-11 in favor of the Seniors, and then it may have been old age creeping up, for in the last half the Seniors scored only three points to the Sophomores seven. The "youngsters" were the winners, 16-14. There lies the answer to our question. The Sophomores are the champs, until this time next year—but here's luck to you, Sophs!

VALKYRIE CLUB

THE Valkyrie Club, an activity limited to upperclass Health Education students, was responsible this year for one of the best musical shows produced on the campus. The original theme, original dances with colorful costumes plus a title familiar to all of us, "So This Is College", made the show a successful event, and certainly a challenge to the next year's Valkyrie maidens to continue the fine record.

In addition to their musical production, the Valkyries sponsor classes throughout the year in the modern dance under Miss Schaub's supervision, while the fall initiations, the Christmas Seal drive in the winter, and the spring picnics afford plenty of opportunity for those with like interests to get together.

OUR ROOTERS

AS we close the pages of athletic history on campus for another year, it is fitting to tender recognition to a loyal band of rooters who braved wintery blasts to cheer their team to victory. It was through the untiring service of the cheerleaders that this undivided support was given the team. Always that "beat the world" spirit was manifested in the student body; that inexplicable element that instills into every heart a common bond of brotherhood was ever present. Teams are victorious; teams are toppled in defeat—but it's a glorious defeat, a time when that invaluable chain of loyalty is drawn taut. As this college will continue to produce great teams in the future, so will its sons and daughters, led by an untiring little group of leaders, lend their voices to a cause which they will ever believe to be a great one.

GALA

CHRISTMAS CHANTRESS

MISS HELEN MARTIN

Our "Jenny Lind"

NO West Chester memories could be complete without including our awe inspiring Carol Service. The beauty of this annual occasion touches even the most insensitive. The height of the service is reached upon the appearance of the outstanding soprano of the Senior Class, whose identity has heretofore remained unknown. Miss Helen Martin was chosen this year as the honored soloist to sing the traditional "Cantique de Noel". Her exceptional rendition more deeply engraved this memory in our hearts.

MAY QUEEN—1939

MISS MARGARET PATTON

"The Greatest Beauty of Her Time"

AS we reviewed our family album, we realized that some few of its portraitures were deserving of special titles of honor.

We are told that, "a thing of beauty is a joy forever". Since this is so, we felt it an honor to confer the title of May Queen upon the greatest beauty of our time. It is the privilege of this chosen one to reign over the pompous grandeur and colorful pageantry of our May Day festivities.

TEACHING

UNLIKE the "schoolmarm" and masters of the "birch-rod and dunce-cap" era, the student teachers of West Chester are progressive and modern in their ideas. Motivation, stimulation and socialization are employed by the embryo pedagogues.

Lesson plans, daily observations and reports are faithfully issued by the seniors to their supervisors and co-operative teachers. Observation periods, active participation, and responsible teaching give the beginners a taste of the real profession. Such handicaps as flat tires, slushy snow, rainy days, and melting weather do not stand in their way. Even the "cellophane" children of 1939 can be as dull as the precocious little gentlemen and ladies of the "gay nineties". Dutiful and long-suffering, the practice teachers have endured their trials and tribulations. However, there are also many joys a feeling of independence and responsibility, an opportunity to stand on one's own feet and to exhibit one's own views and attitudes. These compensations help to make the "student-teaching days" happy and interesting.
